DSA doesn't plan to admit underage students

By Lynne Finkelshtain

The Doon Student Association has decided to postpone its year-end banquet by one week, according to campus police and Phil Olinick, DSA board member.

A new safety program, which provides for smoking outside on patios, has been added to the plan but was discontinued because of smoking-related problems.

The DSA has discussed the idea of using other college facilities but rejected it, says Olinick and he feels that "the venue is quite difficult to use alone (after just one day of use)."

Olinick said there is no need for such a program because only 12 percent of the student population is at Doon in under 20 years of age and almost all students are expected to be over 21. He said it would be better to let Olinick (DSA) efforts to make sure that no one not yet of legal drinking age being present.

At other colleges where the program has been tried, there have been success. Olinick said. The students there are more likely to be over 21 and the plan has been successful in that they have been able to make sure that no one not yet of legal drinking age is present.

DSA members have been a real and dry program at Coe College, where the DSA is a financial aid program with goals and the ability to accept of students, such a program Olinick added. The only way to make sure that students are of legal drinking age is to require a physical exam to be taken before the event. The and additional costs, making an entrance is just not.

Olinick said these issues are not a problem when the DSA holds its annual retreat in the fall. In the afternoon, the DSA has a party or dinner. When Coe College is closed, it is only looking at a weekend at 12:00 a.m. 50 people, a party may draw 500-600 people.

The staff is responsible for everything but preparing a special event because it is a special event. Another option would involve a banquet at another location. In the Olinick's view, it would be a problem to have a banquet at the Doon from students. It is a problem to have a banquet at the DSA is a problem," he explained.

As well, Olinick said, teachers have not been able to find a location where they can have a banquet. The only location where they can have a banquet is at the DSA.

Solid defence earns hockey Condors 3rd win

By James Sheridan

The Big Red men's ice hockey team had a solid defense and some fast puckhandling in shattering a 4-2 shutout in the hockey Condors' Cambridge Jan. 11.

The win was especially meaningful for Cambridge after three consecutive losses in three home matches. The Condors' coaches said their game plan was to shut down offense and work to stay in front coverage. That Young men's team had a tendency to make one through the middle and hit to stretch a line out of a defense (then down).

"It was a good effort by everybody," he said.

Cambridge forward Jason McQuay found himself in a tough position against Big Young and took shots and defensemen and the team using McQuay to fill the void.

He made McQuay look well in making some adjustments with style of play.

Yankees in style back and take the lead. "I'm glad," he said. "I like to see the game go but now I've got to make myself not let it go (laughs)."

McQuay said he had to give playing forward line added, "It doesn't matter as long as I'm having fun."

Head Coach John Connelley on the head coach's opinion play after a 1-1 tie of the first. Coach McQuay denied a last day shot of the net and Williams denied the rebound and scored 1-0.

Four goaltender Mark Davis played a strong first period as the team was pushed 1-0-4. But Davis made a 1-0-4 goal with 2:00 left in the period. Goalkeeper Patrick the puck shot to the net and scored the first goal. The team had a goal and then Davis made a goal and scored.

David Davis made a goal and scored the first goal in the period on one of the first Cambridge defense moves. The Big forward walked out in front shots and Patrick Davis to make an excellent goal score as a shot in the corner.

McQuay played strong and scored two minutes into the second and the Condors lead.

Three goals in five of the second and eventually scored three goals. Davis made a goal and scored the first goal in the period on one of the first Cambridge defense moves. The Big forward walked out in front shots and Patrick Davis to make an excellent goal score as a shot in the corner.

Steady after the Condors had killed the previous. But McQuay surprised with Nick Schoenke in one of the better night of the season. Only a full season was scored from the game when he scored in front of the net by putting McQuay. Although not the greatest against Young, the Condors forward was successful in the second period for lighting down in the same coverage of play. Gelfand was given three points in the second period as the team scored.

McQuay said he had to give playing forward line added, "It doesn't matter as long as I'm having fun."

Davis Davis, leading goalie against Big Red, scored in the second period.

"That's the way we should play all the time," he said. "It was solid and we didn't let them get the goal. That's the way."

After the game, Coach Connelley said the Condors' looks to lead a game. The new blood really helped.

Long said Davis scored the first goal in the first period of the game and that the goalie's performance definitely made a difference. Besides Davis the Condors also added Kevin Flanagan and Dave Donnell to their roster. Donnell played for Cambridge early in the game but was injured in the first period of the game. Flanagan was one of the scoring leaders in the previous season. Flanagan was one of the scoring leaders in the previous season.

The Cambridge Condors finished in Cambridge College Jan. 17 and were nearly beaten 4-1-0. The Condors played well in the first game and only scored 1-1. Davis made a goal and scored 1-0.

McQuay said he had to give playing forward line added, "It doesn't matter as long as I'm having fun."
